Now then...
A summoning circle has appeared! [Retired heroes side]
1 Retired hero Freeter(Axis phase Earth
▼A summoning circle has appeared!
->Step onto it.
Don't step onto it

2 Retired hero: Student
Do it!
3 Retired hero: Adventurer
Just do it
4 Retired hero: Shopkeeper
Why is this even a question?
5.Retired hero: Prince
Just go in already.
Well...
It's just You know?

It's not the first time,
It's happened plenty of times already
7 Retired hero Adventurer
And since when is not getting in an option?
8 Retired hero Shopkeeper
Normally don't you just get dragged in regardless of your intentions?
9 Retired hero Student
Oh, right
This is Freeter we're talking about!

12 Retired hero Adventurer
Huh?
And if you're in the retired heroes area, this should be your second time, right?
13 Retired hero Student
This must be your first time talking to Freeter
He's well past 2 times, how many times has it been now?
23!
15 Retired hero Student
That "how's that!" face

17 Retired hero, Adventurer
You ve done this 23 times?!
Yeah,
I ve been summoned 23 times,
and been to plenty of worlds
20 Retired hero Shopkeeper
Different worlds? So it s not the same place summoning you over and over?
The 23 worlds I ve been to were completely different places
22 Retired hero, Adventurer
Back on topic, don t summoning circles just appear under your feet and take you regardless of your will?

I saw a light appear at my feet, and got a bad feeling, so I jumped out of the way
Yeah, that's how it is normally
25 Retired hero Student
There it is! Freeter's evasive maneuver back step(AA+)!

and this is the restroom at my workplace.
I'm currently on my break
Well,
my body just moved on it's own, nothing I can do there,
28 Retired hero Adventurer
What, so you don't want to be a hero?
Hmm

Honestly, I m not against doing it, and it s certainly a worthwhile job, though there are downsides, and I m used to fighting at this point
The fact that I m being summoned basically means that someone needs my help
32 Retired hero: Prince...
Is there a reason you re not that eager to be summoned this time?
Well,
.....

I've been entrusted to do this work
I'm at work, you know
35 Retired hero: Shopkeeper
Huh?
36 Retired hero: Student
That s
no image
37 Retired hero: Adventurer
your reason?!
This is a critical point for me
Since I wasn't getting summoned, I started this job 3 months ago!
Lately I've even been thinking of becoming a full-time employee!
Don't look down on work! I'm depending on this!

to help the world that desperately needs a hero, Ignoring the summoning circle and refusing while you're living a simple life as a corporate slave every day, wondering if some poor soul got dragged into that mess, becoming a full-time employee and working your ass off only to suddenly disappear for a while, earning you a bad reputation Working part time to pay the bills waiting for the next time you get summoned a new job after returning, constantly Then having a hard time searching for That's what he's talking about!
no image
Oh, but isn't it true?
no image
Student You sure are nasty the way you've worded it means that my life will be shit regardless of what I choose!
Damn it, Student! While that may be accurate,

What would you do in my position?!
Argh!
I'm still on my break right now, so let's just get to it!
45 Retired hero Shopkeeper
Is the summoning circle just going to wait?
47 Retired hero Prince
Why don't you just choose what you want to do?
Pick one!
Yes or no!
I don't want that sort of meaningless answer!
It's been waiting patiently this whole time,
on the floor
in front of me,

49 Retired hero Adventurer
Well, this is how I see it
There's a world that desperately needs me and is waiting for me, so I d do it
50 Retired hero Shopkeeper
Hmmm, I d choose work,
I've got a family after all
Isn t it time for you to settle down as well?
51 Retired hero Prince
That's true, you should consider your family as well
At all...
I don t have a family, I don t know of any relatives, and I don t really have any friends don t have anyone...
I
53 Retired hero Prince
Oh... While I didn t know, that was insensitive of me, I apologize
54 Retired hero Shopkeeper
Yeah... Sorry

55 Retired hero: Student
Huh?
You don t even have any friends?! no more Student!
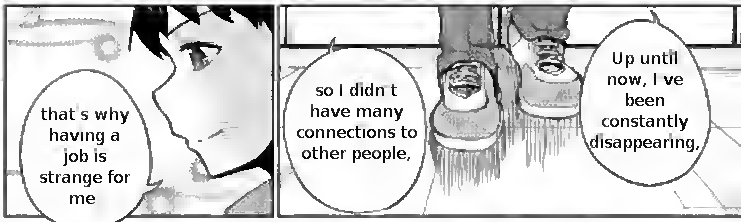
Ah, it's fine.



that s why having a job is strange for me so I didn t have many connections to other people,
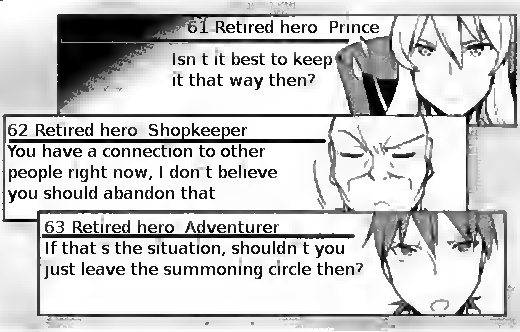
Up until now, I ve been constantly disappearing,



61 Retired hero Prince
Isn t it best to keep it that way then?
62 Retired hero Shopkeeper
You have a connection to other people right now, I don t believe you should abandon that
63 Retired hero Adventurer
If that s the situation, shouldn t you just leave the summoning circle then?

I m curious,
Ugh
64 Retired hero Student
But on the other hand, there s people desperately trying to summon a hero!
And it s not like they ll succeed if they just try again
no image
no im
why do you even return?
66 Retired hero Shopkeeper
Student, you re really
Didn t you make friends there?
I mean, you ve been summoned to 23 worlds now,
Being a hero, wouldn t you be treated well if you stayed?
didn t you like at least one of them?
no image
So why would you return to this kind of life?
I d like to know that
.....

lol Freeter
Freeter
lol Freeter
I never thought of that
In one world, I had a lover!
In one world, they didn't want me to leave!
In one world, I had comrades!
In one world, I had friends!

Why did I think of returning as something I had to do?
In one world I had a harem!
73 Retired hero: Adventurer
What?! So you re
74 Retired hero: Shopkeeper
a harem hero! You bastard!
75 Retired hero: Prince
Well, in that case, settling down in another world is one of the options with a summoning
76 Retired hero: Adventurer
Is that summoning circle still there?
79 Retired hero: Prince
Perhaps they re that desperate for a hero, that s one possibility
NO image
80 Retired hero: Student
You're at a fork in the road! Will you be a full time employee? Or will you be a hero? You have to decide for yourself!
It is.
78 Retired hero: Shopkeeper
So patient lol
